Disclosure of COVID-19 Vaccination Status by Physicians

1. The Ottawa Henry Farmgate Association policies allow for the disclosure of a physician's vaccination status to the patient in an informed manner, and the physician must provide appropriate information about the patient's health and care. The physician must not disclose this information to any third party without the patient's consent.

2. The physician must disclose the vaccination status to the patient in writing. The written disclosure must contain information about the patient's health, the potential benefits and risks of vaccination, and the patient's rights to decline vaccination. The physician must also provide information on the availability of alternative treatments.

3. The physician must inform the patient of their right to access their vaccination record. The patient must be informed of their right to receive a copy of their vaccination record and the right to challenge the accuracy of the record.

4. The physician must provide information on the consequences of refusing vaccination. The physician must inform the patient of the potential risks of refusing vaccination, including the risk of contracting COVID-19 and the potential impact on their health.

5. The physician must maintain confidentiality of the patient's vaccination status. The physician must not disclose the vaccination status to any third party without the patient's consent, except as required by law.
