CMA POLICY

Guidelines for CMA’s Activities and Relationships with Other Parties

In the normal course of activities the CMA may have relationships with other organizations, institutions or persons which may raise questions about potential conflicts of interest. The CMA deems that any potentially contentious or controversial relationship be fully disclosed to its members. The CMA will ensure that any potential conflicts of interest are resolved in such a way as not to compromise its objectivity and independence. The CMA will ensure that no such conflict of interest be maintained.
