CMA POLICY

Medical professionalism

(Update 2005)

The commitment to which medicine is grounded in Canada is undergoing rapid and profound change. There are new societal expectations for the medical profession to provide leadership for our patients, our communities and our colleagues through our regulated professionals. The Canadian Medical Association (CMA) is strongly committed to medical professionalism and has developed this policy to inform physicians and others about its meaning and value and to promote its preservation and enhancement. This document outlines the major features of medical professionalism, the opportunities which exist in this area and the challenges which lie before us.

Why Medical Professionalism?

The medical profession is distinguished by a strong commitment to the well-being of patients, high standards of ethical conduct, mastery of an ever-expanding body of knowledge and skills, and a high level of clinical independence. As individuals, physicians' personal values may vary, but as members of the medical profession they are expected to share and uphold those values that characterize the practice of medicine and the care of patients.

Medical professionalism includes both the relationship between a physician and a patient and a social contract between physicians and society. Society grants the profession privileges, enabling medicine to practice responsibly for the promotion of human welfare and a high degree of self-regulation. In return, the profession agrees to use those privileges primarily for the benefit of others and only secondarily for its own benefit. These major features of medical professionalism – the ethics of care, clinical independence and self-regulation – benefit physicians, their patients and society.

Fiduciary duty: This is characterized by the values of care, prudence, beneficence, non-maleficence, respect for persons and justice (CMA's Code of Ethics). Society benefits from the ethics of care inherent in the provision of medical services, physicians give the interests of others ahead of their own.

Undivided and committed to the well-being of others is clearly in the interests of patients, who are the primary beneficiaries.

Clinical independence: Medicine is a highly complex art and science. Through thoughtful training and experience, physicians become medical experts and leaders. When patients have the right to decide in a large sense which medical interventions they will undergo, they expect their physicians to be free to make clinically appropriate recommendations. Although physicians recognize that they are accountable to patients, family members and that peers for their recommendations, an essential feature of clinical autonomy is respect by governments and administrators, including public agencies, not just to the best interests of patients, but also because they can change the treatment in a conventional component of the patient-physician relationship. Concomitantly, physicians are not morally obliged to provide inappropriate medical services when requested by patients despite their respect for patient autonomy.

Self-regulation: Physicians have traditionally been granted the privilege by society to include the control of entrance into the profession by establishing educational standards and setting requirements, the licensing of physicians, and the

CMA Policy Endorsement Guidelines ("Substitutes") CMA Board Approved March 2018

These Guidelines constitute an implementation tool of seven recommendations and are informed by Guidelines to CMA's Structure and Relationship with Other Parties (aka CMA's Corporate Relationship Policy) and CMA's Authority as a Professional Body.

1. Scope
These Guidelines apply to the Canadian Medical Association (and not to its subsidiaries). As these are Guidelines, exceptions may be necessary from time to time where a staff may use their discretion and judgment.

2. Definition
Endorsement is an umbrella term encompassing "policy endorsement", "sponsorship" and "lending".
Policy endorsement includes:
(a) CMA endorsing any public report, non-proprietary public opinion poll, which may include the use of CMA's name and/or logo, of an organization's written policy, or an issue that aligns with CMA policy, where there is no explicit repudiation of intent; or
(b) CMA adopting the policy of another organization as our policy; or
(c) CMA asking another organization to publicly support our policy.

3. Process
(a) Criteria for policy endorsement requests from another organization to endorse their policy¹ (the following criteria shall be applied):
i. we have a policy on the subject matter and
ii. we are actively working on a document that policy position and
iii. the organization has a follow-up action plan associated with its request.
(b) Approval: Where policy needs approval requires a policy staff member (with portfolio responsibility) and the VP of Medical Professionalism, or the policy staff member (with portfolio responsibility) and the Chief Policy Advisor. Where no policy needs approval requires the Board of Directors to approve.
(c) Annual confirmation: Where CMA adopts the policy of another organization², CMA staff will confirm annually, or more frequently if circumstances dictate, that the policy has not been altered by the other organization.
(d) Requests: Pursuit of potential endorsement requests are not appropriate. If where possible, requests should come from an organization and not an individual.

4. Results
(a) Where CMA adopts the policy of another organization, the adopted policy shall become CMA policy, and will include a notation on the document as being an adopted policy (per below).
(b) All adopted policies will be housed in an accessible online database.
(c) All requests for organizations for CMA to endorse their policy will be tracked in a central location, along with any responses.

¹ Requests must, in order to be eligible, meet the following criteria: (i) the organization has a follow-up action plan associated with its request; (ii) the organization has a policy on the subject matter; (iii) the organization is actively working on a document that policy position and; (iv) the organization has a follow-up action plan associated with its request.

² This is part of the definition of endorsement.

The Right Honourable Justin Trudeau, Prime Minister of Canada
The Honourable Ginette P. Taylor, Minister of Health
The Honourable Ahmed D. Hassan, Minister of Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship
CC: Mr. Dariusz Pionek, United Nations Special Rapporteur on the right of everyone to the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health

Dear Prime Minister, Trudeau & Ministers Taylor and Hassan,

We are writing to you today as members of the health community to urge your action on a crucial matter pertaining to health and human rights. You will no doubt be aware that the United Nations Human Rights Committee (UNHRC) recently issued a landmark opinion condemning Canada for denying access to essential health care on the basis of immigration status based on the case of Nell Trousseau.

Nell is a 49-year-old woman from Grenada who has been living in Canada since 1999, and who suffered significant negative health consequences as a result of being denied access to essential health care services. The UNHRC's decision condemns Canada's existing discriminatory policies, and finds Canada to be in violation of both the right to life, as well as the right to equality and freedom from discrimination.

Based on its review of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, the UNHRC has declared that Canada must provide Nell with adequate compensation for the significant harm she suffered. As Nell, they have called on Canada to report on its review of national legislation within a 180-day period, in order to ensure that regular migrants have access to essential health care to prevent a reasonably foreseeable risk that can result in loss of life. The United Nations Special Rapporteur has urged for the same, calls on the government to protect health-related rights to life, security of the person, and equality of individuals and groups in situations of vulnerability.

Nell is one of an estimated half million people in Ontario alone who are denied access to health coverage and care on the basis of their immigration status, putting their health at risk. As members of Canada's health community, we are appalled by the details of the case as well as its broad implications, and call on the government to:

1. Comply with the UNHRC's order to review existing laws and policies regarding health care coverage for regular migrants.
2. Ensure appropriate resource allocation, so that all people in Canada are provided universal and equitable access to health care services, regardless of immigration status.
3. Provide Nell Trousseau with adequate compensation for the significant harm she has suffered as a result of not receiving essential health care services.
