This thumbnail shows the top portion of the 'Guidelines for physicians in interactions with industry' document. It features the CMA logo and the title. Below the title, there is a section for 'Physician-industry relationships' which discusses the evolving landscape of the health care industry and the role of physicians. It mentions that physicians interact with industry in various ways, including research, education, and the advancement of medical science. It also notes that while these interactions can benefit patients, they can also create conflicts of interest that may influence a physician's judgment or the presentation of medical evidence.

This thumbnail shows the top portion of the 'Recommendations for Physician Innovators' document. It features the CMA logo and the title. Below the title, there is a section for 'Physicians are increasingly taking on leadership roles' which discusses the growing role of physicians in medical innovation and entrepreneurship. It notes that while this is a positive trend, it also brings new risks and challenges. The document provides recommendations to help guide physician innovators, including the importance of maintaining primary ethical and professional obligations to patients, the public, and the profession. It also discusses the need for transparency and the potential for conflicts of interest.
